Recruiting Volunteers During & After COVID-19

The pandemic has meant many changes to how or even if, organizations are involving volunteers – from reducing, or postponing volunteer involvement, to adapting some volunteer roles and creating new ones to respond to community and organization needs.

Many volunteers have stepped away from their roles; some will return, some may not. For others, their roles may have changed.

In 2021, we are still facing many of the same challenges. How do we recruit volunteers as we navigate this changing volunteer landscape, to existing roles, new roles and many now in virtual formats? Join us to share your experiences,

Deborah Pike, Manager, Special Projects with Volunteer Canada will be presenting on this timely and relevant topic.

Deborah has worked in the non-profit sector for more than 25 years in both national and grassroots organizations. At Volunteer Canada, she manages a variety of projects, resource development, training and research, as well as supporting non-profits and volunteer centres as we manage the ongoing impacts of COVID-19 on volunteering.
